

MAHIN SIDDIQUI

SENIOR ASSOCIATE, GULF INTELLIGENCE

Mahin is an Energy analyst, Communications professional and knowledge professional focused on the ME-P oil, gas and politics sector. She has a background in oil and gas consulting, and continues to build her portfolio in analysis, communications, stakeholder management, media and public relations.

Currently, she is an Associate at Gulf Intelligence where she handles GCC wide strategic exposure for global energy and commodities companies; and plays a key role in building global exposure for a pioneer data transparency project in the Middle East in partnership with the UAE government. She regularly sources and advises clients on reactions to pressing and often unexpected news in the energy industry through thought leadership consulting.

Mahin is also seminal in building Gulf Intelligence's developing analytics unit GIQ through research, data & news analysis and trend identification.

Mahin's analytical expertise lies in politics and holistic energy analysis focused on upstream & downstream energy events in the ME-P region. She contributes to publications with OP EDS and commentary on trends in the energy sector.

Mahin has a BS in Social Sciences with majors in International Relations and MS in International Studies from the University of Wollongong. She speaks English, Urdu and Hindi fluently; and has limited proficiency in French and Arabic. She is well traveled and tweets at @siddiquimahin

